The Most Versatile Sports Action Camera Ever!

The EAGLE reaches a new level of versatility with three camera mounting options and a completely waterproof case! This extreme sports camera is designed to capture high quality videos of your favorite extreme sports such as snowboarding, wake boarding, water skiing, boating, jet skiing and underwater exploration. Continue reading to learn what this amazing product is all about!

Mounting options include

Rubber Strap - Use the rubber strap with the provided hardware to safely attach the EAGLE to slippery surfaces such as the side of a helmet.

Handlebar Grip - Use the handlebar grip to securely mount the EAGLE on most bicycle handlebars. You can also mount this on any other similar sized metal or plastic bar you desire.

Velcro Strap - Use the velcro strap with the provided hardware to securely attach the EAGLE to any object you can imagine. Attach it to your arm, leg, dog or anywhere else you can possibly think of. You are limited by your imagination only!

Convenience In Design

With the EAGLE you can record video all day long without the stress of power and storage restraints found in similar action camcorders. This is because the EAGLE uses readily available AA batteries instead of rechargeable internal batteries. Simply replace old batteries when needed and continue recording without the risk of missing a single moment again. This action camera also records videos directly on SD memory cards, so lack of video storage will never be a issue when using the EAGLE.

Built To Last

Extreme sports demand extreme durability. When holding the EAGLE you will instantly notice the reinforced rubber protective casing and perfectly sealed waterproof camera housing. Built with durability in mind, you can safely take this camera everywhere you go and never have to worry about damaging your camera due to harsh weather conditions or mild impacts again.
